

- > ChatCard and the accompanying ChatCard Online prepaid calling card management system have proven to be the world's leading Inmarsat CrewCalling service, with thousands of vessels and tens of thousands of crewmembers globally, taking advantage of this great offering. Inmarsat is very aware of the social calling requirements of seafarers, but also of the needs of the maritime companies to minimize the administrative effort to provide this to their crew. Therefore, in addition to ChatCard Online, has now developed myChatCard.
- > myChatCard is an online tool available directly from our public website which allows crewmembers to view their current ChatCard balance, reload their ChatCard or order a new eChatCard, using their credit card*. Access to myChatCard service can be enabled on your ChatCard Online account by your Account Manager. If myChatCard is not enabled for the ChatCard Online account to which the card belongs, the crewmember can view their balance but will not be permitted to reload the card or order a card within this service. In this case, they will use the normal method through their employer or ChatCard supplier.

- > With ChatCard, shipping companies can allow their crew the chance to talk to home without having to worry about credit checks, bills, switching SIM-cards, or the compatibility of cards and services. The ChatCard Reload also offers many unique advantages for large companies and individual users alike. Now with myChatCard, shipping companies can offer ChatCards with absolutely no administrative effort and the crewmembers will have the advantage of managing their own cards.

* credit card is billed the amount which includes price of units ordered, applicable taxes based on registry of credit card and a credit card transaction fee of 4.25%.
